MATTEO SETTI

ITALIAN FACTOR

60' HD

Matteo Setti is everything you'd want from an Italian singer — handsome, passionate and in possession of a silky smooth voice that has been compared to the tone of a Stradivarius violin. Matteo was first discovered by Luciano Pavarotti to star in the Pavarotti-produced version of the musical "Rent." After thrilling audiences in European capitals and other parts of the world, he now sets out to record a television special.

This television special showcases his powerfully unique voice and passionate interpretive skills. Supported by his 26-person band with full strings, brass and rhythm section, Matteo Setti rocks the house with his take on old classics, and melts the heart with his soulful interpretation of romantic Italian favorites.
