India is a place that has captured my heart forever. Daniel (who is filming) and I are joined by our good mate Shura - and we quickly discover how easily you are accepted here when you can join in a game of cricket! We have met the most incredible travel guide who takes on a journey through the north of continent, catching the train to the colourful state of Rajasthan where we are treated to royalty at the Nimaj palace and I am overwhelmed by a special birthday surprise on the rooftop! We then walk the grounds of a place that symbolises one of the world's greatest love story's - the magnificent Taj Mahal.. There is not a dry eye in sight. But it's the thrill of going on an expedition looking for the Bengal Tiger that gets our heart racing .. after nearly missing the trip due to famous 'Delhi belly', we not only spot one ... but 28 .. all just a few days ... This was a place very hard to leave.

Episode 5: High Arctic

We're on a sea voyage to one of the most talked about places in the world - The High Arctic - home to Greenland, which as the experts say is melting due to Global Warming. Travelling through this Polar Bear country .... We spot several as we cruise past icebergs the size of high rise buildings.

Episode 6: Jordan

We are travelling through one of the oldest civilisations in the world .... The place that many call the safe haven of the Middle East ... Jordan. From the ritual Ramadan in the country's capital of Amman to Laurence of Arabia country in the wadi rum desert ... We are exploring every corner of this little country, including one of the new seven wonders of the world, the ancient city of Petra.

Episode 7: Peru

We're travelling through the land of the Inca's in Peru, a place filled with so much history, culture, and adventure! The famous Inca trail to lost city of Machu Picchu, we even visit an Andean priest who makes a prediction of our future (that actually comes true!)

We hang on for the ride taking a light plane to see one of the world's great archaeological mysteries, the Nasca lines.
