

See the world from Nathan LeRoy's eyes and it'll look different. In this epic journey like rarely seen on television, Nathan travels from the icy Himalayas to the hottest deserts of Morocco to see and experience how the food is grown around the world, and how the man can live peacefully in the shadow of Nature.

Outstanding imageries, never-seen before concept and content, some amazing people and an effervescent host, Under The Sun presents a mix that audiences would savor for a long, long time.
